	Program Management Professional (PgMP)®	5 days	PgMP® demonstrates a proven competency to oversee multiple, related projects and their resources to achieve strategic business goals. PgMP credential holders oversee the success of a program, grouping related projects together to realize organizational benefits not available if they were managed separately. It's the perfect fit if you define projects, assign project managers and oversee programs.
	Portfolio Management Professional (PfMP)®	5 days	Portfolio Management helps organizations make decisions about implementing the right changes to business as usual; those changes are delivered via projects and programs. The workshop shows participants how to apply the guidance, giving participants the chance to sit the Portfolio Management Professional level examination.
	Organizational Project Management Maturity Model (OPM3)®	5 days	When your organization embraces organizational project management, you're embracing a critical driver for business success. Instead of executing projects randomly, you're improving your processes and tying projects to your business strategy and needs. You're making sure that your company focuses on projects and programs that support your organization's goals. And when you do, you get better performance, better results, and a sustainable competitive advantage in the marketplace.
